Head Coach: Derek DelPorto (Slippery Rock, '99) 2nd Year

Assistant Coach: David Bolyard (Central Michigan, '05) 1st Year

Graduate Assistant: Kevin Artis (UNC Greensboro, '06) 2nd Year

Student Assistant: Nick Conklin - 1st Year

In just his first season at the helm of the Eastern Michigan University wrestling program, head coach Der-ek DelPorto set the bar high for years to come. The Eagles posted an 8-7 regular-season record, the best mark since the 1990-91 campaign, and improved on their finish at the Mid-American Conference Championship with a fifth place finish.

The Green and White closed out the 2006-07 regular season with an impressive 5-1 mark in the month of February, including a five match winning streak with victories over Buffalo, Clarion, Duquesne, Wagner and Eastern Illinois.

DelPorto coached six wrestlers to place finishes at the MAC Championship, the most since the 1995-96 campaign in which eight wrestlers placed.

The Eagles were showered with post-season accolades, highlighted by a No. 12 national ranking in the National Wrestling Coaches Association (NWCA) Academic Top 30. In addition to a national academic team ranking, four Eagles were selected to the Academic All-MAC squad; Tony Lyssiotis a two-time selection, Zack Donofrio, Chris Jenkins and Cory Mancuso.

The Eagles lost valuable leadership and experience with the departure of seniors Jermain Thompson, Nick Conklin, Charlie Walker and Lyssiotis. Thompson, the 149 pound MAC Champion and lone Eagle qualifier for the NCAA Tournament, led the Eagles with a career-high 23 wins last season. Conklin, a two-time place winner at the MAC Championship, was second in wins, notching 20. Lyssiotis, an Academic All-MAC selection, finished third in at 197 pounds at the MAC Championship and was third in wins last season with 19.

DelPorto is excited about the future of Green and White wrestling and eager for his second season to begin, "EMU wrestling is moving in the right direction," mentioned DelPorto. We are working as a complete unit to achieve long term results. With the new attitude and new coaching staff comes a new enthusiasm. I know it's going to take time. I'm a realist with realistic goals and a realistic time frame in mind and I firmly believe the end results will be very positive."

The 125 pound weight class is open and will most likely see a freshman fill the void. The top candidate is Mike Maguire. Maguire, a three-time state qualifier, placed seventh at the state championship and was a district and regional runner-up during his junior season. In his senior campaign he posted a 58-3 record en route to the Division I title, as well as the district and regional crowns.

After a redshirt year, 133 pound sophomore Sean Clair will look to pick up where he left off his freshman year in the 133 lbs. weight class, posting a 28-11 overall record and an 11-3 dual meet mark on the year. Fourth-place finishes at his first MAC Championship and at the Southern Scuffle gave Clair the experience of a seasoned veteran after just one year collegiate competition.

Redshirt sophomores Zach Donofrio and David Pienaar will battle for the starting position at 141. Donofrio finished last season with a 14-11 overall record and a 2-2 dual mark in conference action. Pienaar was a transfer from Slippery Rock University where he was an NCAA Qualifier. Pienaar was also ranked No. 4 in the 141-pound weight class in the MAC preseason rankings.

The 149-pound class will see a new face in the starting lineup this season after the departure of NCAA Qualifier and 2006-07 MAC champion Jermain Thompson. In the front running for the starting nod are Drew Lesko and Josh Moulton. In limited open action last season, Lesko carded a 4-6 record while Moulton posted a 5-5 overall record.

Cory Mancuso returns as last year's starter at 157. Mancuso, a Slippery Rock transfer, collected a 16-12 mark in his first year wrestling for the Eagles. He posted a 2-3 dual mark in MAC action and was ranked the No. 3 wrestler at 157 in the annual preseason MAC rankings.

Also, seeing a new face in the starting line-up will be the 165-pound weight class after the departure of Nick Conklin. Leading candidates for the job include freshman Derek Foore and Cleveland State transfer Kyle Chittick. Foore was a three-time state runner-up, each time in a different weight class (135, 145, 160). He set the school and county record, totaling 170 wins in his career, including 92 pins. Chittick enters the season ranked No. 4 in the preseason MAC rankings.

Redshirt senior Charlie Pienaar will be the leading candidate for the starting nod at 174. A transfer from Slippery Rock University, he is ranked No. 3 in the pre-season edition of the MAC rankings.

In the lead at 184 is Josh Lewis. Lewis spent most of last season at 174. He posted a 7-15 record on the year and a 5-9 dual meet mark.

Junior John McClure moves up to the 197-pound class after competing in the at 184 last season and will likely be the starter once the Eagles commence dual meet action in early December. Last season McClure posted an 11-13 mark for the Green and White.

The heavyweight class will also receive a makeover with Charlie Walker graduating. Redshirt freshman David Wade leads all contenders. Challengers include freshmen Dominic Doyle, Wes Schroeder, and Matt Pettigrew.

The Eagles will start their season competing in two open tournaments, the EMU Open, Nov. 3, and the Michigan State Open the following week, before starting dual action in early December.

Eastern Michigan's 2006-2007 recruiting class did something no other recruiting class in EMU wrestling history had done before; achieve a nationally ranking. Intermat Wrestling ranked the Eagles No. 23 in the country in the pre-season recruiting rankings.

Championships

1 MAC Champion

1 NCAA Qualifier

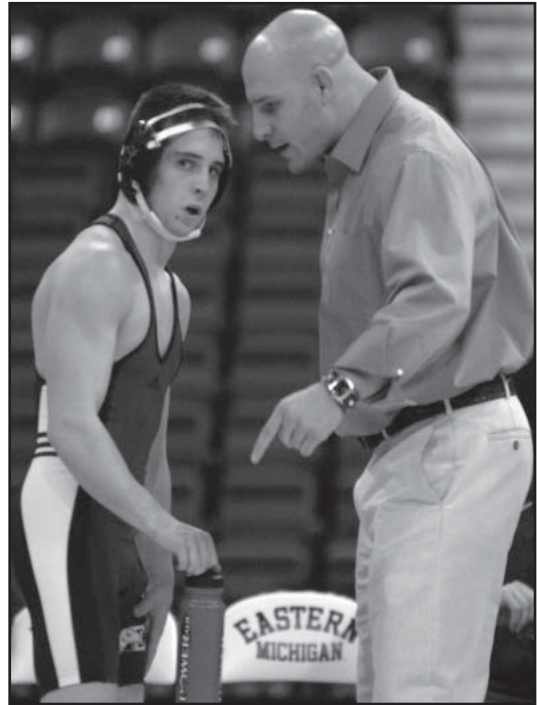

Derek DelPorto enters his second season at the helm of the Eastern Michigan wrestling program this year.

In just his first season, DelPorto directed the Eagles their first winning record since the 1990-91 campaign, posting an 8-7 mark. He also led the Green and White to only the second Mid-American Conference dual victory in the past decade, a 28-10, home defeat over Buffalo. At his first MAC Championship, two of DelPorto's student-athletes wrestled for a weight class championship; Jermain Thompson at 149 and Tony Lyssiotis at 197. Thompson would go on to win the MAC Championship, qualifying for the NCAA Championship in Auburn Hills, Mich.

DelPorto, a former All-American wrestler while a undergraduate at Slippery Rock University, returned to his alma mater as the head coach for the 2004-05 season. DelPorto and his 2005-06 team made the most of the school's final wrestling season, announced at the start of the year, winning the team championship at the NCAA Division I East Regional Championship and advancing a tournament-record 10 wrestlers to weight-class championship final bouts while recording a school record-tying four individual titles.

In addition, SRU sent a school-record five wrestlers to the 2006 NCAA Division I National Championship. For his efforts, DelPorto was named NCAA Division I East Regional Coach of the Year. His 2004-05 Slippery Rock squad was the NCAA East Regional runner-up, and had three NCAA Division I championship qualifiers and three Academic All-Americans.

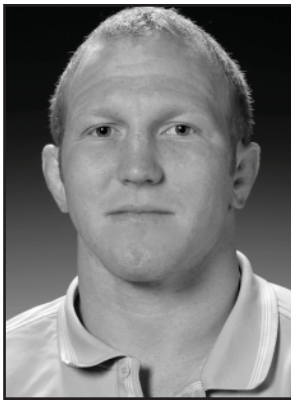

DelPorto began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Slippery Rock from 1999-2000 before moving on to Oklahoma University as an assistant from 2000-02. From 2002-04, DelPorto was an assistant wrestling coach at Cornell University before returning to his alma mater to take over the head coaching duties in 2004.

The 31-year-old DelPorto (April 10, 1976) grew up in Erie, Pa. and graduated from Cathedral Prep in Erie, Pa. in 1994. DelPorto went on to wrestle as a collegian at Slippery Rock where he recorded the third-best record in school history at 116-38 in his four seasons. He earned NCAA All-America honors in 1999 after finishing in eighth place in the heavyweight classification at the NCAA Division I championships. He was also a three-time East Regional champion, winning the heavyweight titles in 1998 and 1999 and capturing the 177-pound crown in 1996. DelPorto also won the PSAC heavyweight title in 1998.

David Bolyard

ASSISTANT COACH

DAVID BOLYARD

Bolyard, a 2005 graduate of Central Michigan University, was a four-time national qualifier and 2005 Mid-American Conference Champion in the 165-pound weight class.

As a senior he carded a 33-5 overall record and was ranked as high as second nationally in his final season. Bolyard won a school-record 21 straight matches during his senior campaign.

Following his senior season, Bolyard won the Chick Sherwood Award, presented annually to CMU's most valuable wrestler. He ranks seventh all-time with 109 career wins and his 22 falls are tied for the 10th most in school history.

He finished second at the MAC Championship each of the first three years of his collegiate career, and each time earned a wild card berth to the NCAA Championships. His best performance at nationals came as a junior in 2004, when he strung together four straight wins in the consolation bracket en route to a sixth-place finish and All-America honors.

Bolyard also claimed a championship at the prestigious Midlands Tournament during his junior season. He was CMU's first to win at Midlands since 1999.

The 25 year-old Bolyard earned his degree in entrepreneurship from CMU in 2005 and is currently pursuing a master's degree in athletic administration at CMU.

Kevin Artis

GRADUATE ASSISTANT COACH

KEVIN ARTIS

Kevin Artis is in his second season as a graduate assistant coach for the Eastern Michigan University wrestling program.

Artis was a two-time Southern Conference champion and a two-time NCAA national qualifier wrestling at 141 pounds for the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Prior to graduating from UNC-Greensboro, Artis was a two-time All-American at Neosho County Community College. He is presently taking graduate classes to receive a MBA with a concentration in finance at EMU.

MIKE FEENEY
1999 NCAA Division I
ALL-AMERICAN
8TH PLACE - 174 LBS.

At the 1999 NCAA Championships in University Park, Pa, Mike Feeney was the lone EMU representative. He made the most of it, finishing eighth to earn All-America honors. Feeney accomplished his deed amid two obstacles.

First, he lost his opening match and had to win three in a row to make All-America, which he did. Second, he wrestled the entire tournament with a badly injured knee. The injury became worse with each match. After his loss in the fifth round of consolations, Feeney was unable to wrestle and forfeited the seventh-place match. Feeney also qualified for the 2000 and 2001 NCAA Championships at 174.

LEE PRITTS
1996 NCAA Division I
ALL-AMERICAN
6TH PLACE - 118 LBS.

Lee Pritts entered the 1996 NCAA Championships as the Mid-American Conference champion at 118 pounds and emerged with a sixth-place finish and All-American honors. Pritts was also named the outstanding wrestler of the MAC Championship while leading the squad to the 1996 MAC team title.

JOEL SMITH
1989 NCAA Division I
ALL-AMERICAN
5TH PLACE - 158 LBS.

Joel Smith was the second EMU wrestler to earn NCAA Division I All-America status. He did so by finishing fifth at 158 pounds at the 1989 NCAA Championships, the highest finish ever by an Eastern Michigan University wrestler at the Division I level. Smith was also the MAC Tournament Champion at 158 in 1989.

JERRY UMIN
1987 NCAA Division I
ALL-AMERICAN
7TH PLACE - 167 LBS.

Jerry Umin was the first EMU wrestler to ever earn All-American honors at the NCAA Division I Wrestling Championships, finishing seventh at 167 pounds. A transfer from Oakland University where he was a two-time Division II All-

American, he was the Mid-American Conference champion in 1987 and posted a 28-4 record overall.

EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

Where We're Located

Eastern Michigan University is located in historic Ypsilanti, about 10 miles east of Ann Arbor, 40 miles west of Detroit and just 20 minutes from Detroit Metropolitan Airport. It is an area rich in academic, research, technological and recreational resources. The University also has sites in Livonia, Jackson, Traverse City, Flint, Detroit and Monroe.

EMU's 800 plus-acre campus of scenic flora and wooded areas includes 18 miles of walkways and jogging trails and has 122 buildings throughout the academic and athletic campuses. Eagle Crest – Eastern Michigan's conference center, golf course and resort – is located on the banks of nearby Ford Lake.

Recently named "A Cool City," by Michigan's Governor Jennifer Granholm, Ypsilanti plays a leading role in industry and education. The city and the University have forged close ties that have lasted 158 years.

What Makes Us Unique

In 1849, with the passage of Act No. 138, the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan formally paved the way for the establishment of Michigan State Normal School, with the exclusive purposes of instructing persons in the art of teaching; providing a good common school education; and giving instruction in the mechanic arts, husbandry, agricultural chemistry and the laws of the United States.

Since its inception, Eastern Michigan, first as a Normal School, then as a College and finally as a University, has grown and developed to respond to the ever-changing needs of society. Over the years, EMU has educated thousands of sons and daughters of Michigan, the nation, and the world.

The University currently serves nearly 24,000 students who are pursuing undergraduate, graduate, specialist, doctoral and certificate degrees in the arts, sciences and professions. In all, more than 400 undergraduate and 167 graduate majors, minors and concentrations are delivered through the University's Colleges of Arts and Sciences; Business; Education; Health and Human Services; Technology, and its graduate school.

Eastern Michigan's exceptional faculty, students and alumni include CEOs from major businesses; a National Student Teacher of the Year, National Teacher of the Year, numerous Fulbright Scholars and Milken Family Foundation National Educators award winners; and several Michigan Teachers of the Year;

Recent University honors include EMU's College of Business being designated by Princeton Review as one of the nation's 143 most outstanding business schools; and the College of Education's recognition by US News and World Report for its long tradition of producing outstanding educational personnel. The University is proud of the fact that it was the first state supported institution to admit women, and that it is consistently cited by US News and World Report for its commitment to diversity. "Black Issues in Higher Education" recently recognized EMU for the number of African-American students who earn undergraduate degrees.

Accreditation

Eastern Michigan University is fully accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and 30 professional associations.

During Gragg's first year as athletic director at EMU, the athletics program set a school and Mid-American Conference (MAC) record by capturing a remarkable eight team conference championships and finishing runners-up in two other sports.

The MAC-record eight team championships eclipsed the mark of six held jointly by Central Michigan (2003-04) and Western Michigan (1984-85).

Gragg became Eastern Michigan's 11th athletic director after spending the previous six years at the University of Arkansas. He first joined the U of A in 2000 as an associate athletic director and was promoted to senior associate athletic director in 2003 and then to deputy athletic director. In his tenure at Arkansas, Gragg was responsible for various areas including: athletic administration, sport program oversight, marketing, sports information, recruitment, budget, student-athlete support, compliance, facilities and game management, fund-raising and research.

During his career, Gragg has published several articles and editorials on intercollegiate athletics as well as a nationwide study on sports-related gambling. He is a former member of the NCAA's Minority Opportunities & Interests Committee, having served as cochair of the committee in 2004-05. Gragg also served as a member of the Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Northwest Arkansas Board of Directors and as a member of the American Heart Association, Northwest Arkansas Board of Directors. He currently serves as a member of the NCAA's Academic/Eligibility/Compliance Cabinet and as a member of the NACDA Division IA Athletic Directors Scholarship Ad Hoc Steering Committee. Gragg also serves as cochair of the MAC track coaches group.

A former collegiate wide receiver, Gragg lettered four years at Vanderbilt while earning his degree. He graduated with a bachelor's in human development in 1992 and was a member of the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll during his senior year. Gragg served from 1993 to 1995 as an academic counselor at his alma mater before adding the title of director of student life in his final year at Vanderbilt. During his time as a Commodore athletic administrator, he coordinated student life and support programs as well as supervising the academic counseling programs for student-athletes. In 1995, Gragg was named director of compliance & operations at the University of Missouri. During his two years in Columbia, he was the game event manager for 10 Olympic sports programs and served on the Big 12 Compliance Coordinators Group during his last year as compliance coordinator at the university.

Named assistant athletic director for compliance at Michigan in 1997, Gragg spent three years with oversight of the UM compliance department. While serving in Ann Arbor, Gragg also earned his master's degree in sports administration from Wayne State University. He also served on the faculty at WSU, teaching intercollegiate sport administration and sports marketing classes. He earned his doctorate in higher education administration from the U of A in May of 2004 and also taught two undergraduate courses during his tenure there as an athletic administrator.

Gragg is a proud member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc. He is also a member of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and the Black Coaches Association (BCA).

Student Athlete Support Services

Student-Athlete Support Services

Academic, personal and professional support are essential to college success. At EMU, Student-Athlete Support Services (SASS) helps student-athletes reach their full potential.

Our philosophy is to offer an academic support program, integrated with the University, that will assist all student-athletes with their transition into college. This all-encompassing support continues throughout each student-athlete's collegiate career, until the day he or she receives a diploma, lands a job or enters graduate school.

Being proactive rather than reactive, our staff does not wait for an academic crisis to occur. We gather important background information and build an academic profile on each student-athlete, assessing his or her needs in advance.

Services provided through SASS include the following: programs that focus on student-athletes' special needs, monitoring academic performance, providing learning assistance, assisting with registration procedures, assisting in monitoring athletic eligibility, providing priority registration and making sure that athletes are advised about current NCAA, MAC and University rules and regulations.

Freshmen and transfer student-athletes encounter a major transition when making the switch from high school or community college to a university. These students, while adjusting to their new routines, receive extra attention and support.

College is not easy. But with hard work and dedication from both the student-athlete and the support staff, the student-athlete can have a successful college experience.

The success of Eastern's student-athletes hinges on their willingness to seek assistance from SASS as well as other University student services. SASS staff members continually refer student-athletes to the Admissions Office, Academic Advising Center, Career Services Center, Health Services, the Records Office, Financial Aid and The Holman Learning Center. Faculty members also provide assistance to student-athletes through advising in course selection and providing additional help with courses when requested.

TRADITION OF CHAMPIONS

EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

Athletic Training and Sports Medicine

The Eastern Michigan University Sports Medicine Department has a long history and reputation for excellence in the health care of student-athletes and the education of athletic training students. Founding practitioners Gary Strickland, Ron Venis and Dr. Wally Roeser envisioned a goal of first-class prevention, management and rehabilitation of athletic injuries for all student-athletes. Although the department continues to grow, its primary mission remains the same. The student-athletes participating in intercollegiate athletics receive comprehensive health care from an expansive sports medicine team.

The Eastern Michigan University Sports Medicine staff is led by team physician Dr. David Alvarez, orthopedic team physicians Dr. Wally Roeser and Dr. Bruce Miller, and Head Athletic Trainer Steve Nordwall. Additionally, the staff consists of two primary care sports medicine fellows, three full-time staff athletic trainers, two full-time athletic training clinical educators, four graduate assistant athletic trainers and the team dentist, Don Wurtzel. Our sports medicine staff works in conjunction with various medical professionals within the community who provide nutritional, dental, vision and other specialized services for our student-athletes.

At Eastern Michigan University, the philosophy of the Sports Medicine staff is two-fold: to provide a high standard of medical care through effective preventive and management programs, and to facilitate an effective post-injury rehabilitation process for a safe return to competition. In all cases, the ultimate well-being of each student-athlete is considered our number one priority, not only while they compete at Eastern Michigan University, but during their lifetime as well.

The Sports Medicine staff operates out of three campus athletic training facilities in the Convocation Center, Bowen Field House and the Rynearson Stadium team building.

Strength and Conditioning

The main focus of the EMU strength and conditioning program is to develop the complete student-athlete. Everything that is incorporated into the training program relates to success on the court.

The program is not just about lifting weights, but rather the development of all aspects of athletic performance. These areas include speed, strength, quickness, agility, flexibility, explosion, sports nutrition and mental toughness.

One of the main objectives of the program is to improve the players' agility and speed. The goal is to develop stronger and more physical student-athletes without losing speed or flexibility.

With that in mind, our staff focuses on improving strength in the "Power Zone." Abdominal, lower back and hip strength are crucial for an athlete's success. Increasing strength in these areas decreases the chance and severity of injury and assists in strength and power development.

EMU athletes are pushed as much as possible to prepare for competition. The athletes are challenged through physically demanding and intense workouts year-round. The athletes are also challenged during each workout with some type of mental toughness/physical challenge. We train not only the physical side of the student-athlete, but also the mental and competitive side. While everyone lifts weights during the year, EMU Eagle student-athletes will also condition. This places us as one of the best conditioned teams in the country each year.

Our goal is simple: Be the best conditioned/most physical team in the country.

A highly motivated athlete is a program's most valuable asset. Everyone in the country works on developing their athletes from the neck down, but at EMU, our program strives for excellence both mentally and physically. Our staff works to develop long-term and short-term goals for success. We work closely with the athletes so we know exactly what they are doing and what they need to do to improve.

Developing athletes is a year-round task for our strength staff. During the year, the athletes will spend almost as much time in the weight room as they do on the court. Strength and Conditioning at EMU is a full-time commitment. There is no such thing as part-time champions. EMU athletes work hard but have fun. The camaraderie and work ethic developed in the weight room carry onto the field.

Mid-American Conference

Providing leadership in education and in diversity, the Mid-American Conference moves into its 61st year of service to the student-athlete.

Since its inception in 1946, the Mid-American Conference has progressively grown and developed into one of the most aggressive Division I conferences in the country. Under the guidance of Commissioner Rick Chryst, the seventh commissioner in the history of the league, the MAC has responded to the ever changing landscape of membership issues and member standards in the fast-paced environment of collegiate athletics.

In May of 2007, three MAC institutions – the University of Akron, Ball State University and the University at Buffalo – were among the 10 NCAA Division I-A athletic departments recognized for excellence in the area of diversity. The achievements were presented by the Laboratory for Diversity in Sport at Texas A&M University.

In addition, Akron and Kent State were noted for Diversity Strategy; Akron and Toledo for African American Graduation: Female Student-Athletes; Ball State and Kent State for African American Graduation: Male Student-Athletes; Buffalo for Employee Diversity: Sex; and Ball State and Buffalo for Employee Diversity: Values and Attitudes.

In a report issued in September of 2006, the MAC had the highest percentage of public institutions with a Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 70 percent or above (8 of 12 schools) and a GSR of 50 percent or more (12 of 12 schools). In football GSR, the MAC led all other I-A leagues as eight of the 12 schools topped the 70 percent or better rate. The MAC's total of eight at 70 percent-plus accounted for 32 percent of the 25 public institutions nationwide that posted 70 percent or better.

MAC football produced four bowl teams in 2006, the second most in league history in a single season. The 2007 gridiron season welcomes the addition of Temple University to the East Division.

MAC women's basketball produced two firsts in 2007. Bowling Green became the first MAC women's basketball team to advance as far as the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament, and Northern Illinois' guard Stephanie Raymond became the first-ever MAC player in the WNBA when she played for the Chicago Sky after being a second round draft selection.

Recent past MAC noteworthy accomplishments include that of former Kent State President Dr. Carol Cartwright. She chaired the Executive Committee of the NCAA Board of Directors from 2002-2005 during a legislative process that keyed legislation relative to I-A status.

In addition, in an NCAA report released in October 2004, the MAC led the 11 I-A conferences in long-term graduation rates for football student-athletes at public institutions.

From Super Bowl quarterback Ben Roethlisberger (Miami University), British Open winner Ben Curtis (Kent State University), World Series winning manager Bob Brenly (Ohio University) and Olympic bobsled team member Brock Kreitzburg (University of Toledo), the Mid-American Conference continues to excel in producing leaders in the world of athletics.

HISTORY OF THE MAC

Based in Cleveland since July 1999 following a 15- year stay in Toledo, Ohio, the MAC has established historic measurements in both football and men's and women's basketball since its move to Northeast Ohio.

The Mid-American Conference was founded as a five-school league on February 24, 1946 in Columbus, Ohio with Ohio, Butler, Cincinnati, Wayne State and Western Reserve admitted as charter members. The Mid-American Conference has 12 full-time schools and a 13th, Temple, for football only. Comprising the East Division is the University of Akron (joined in 1992), Bowling Green State University (1952), University at Buffalo (1998), Kent State University (1951), Miami University (1947) and Ohio University (1946). The West Division members are Ball State University (1973), Central Michigan University (1971), Eastern Michigan University (1971), Northern Illinois University (1975-86, 1997), University of Toledo (1950) and Western Michigan University (1947).

In 1946 men's basketball was the first competitive sport in the MAC, which now sponsors a total of 23 sports. Women's sports were brought into the conference's structure in 1980.

For men, championships (11) are sponsored in football, basketball, baseball, cross country, soccer, swimming and diving, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, wrestling, golf and tennis.

For women, championships (12) are sponsored in basketball, softball, volleyball, cross country, field hockey, golf, soccer, swimming and diving, gymnastics, indoor track and field, outdoor track and tennis.

Ypsilanti - "Pride. Diversity." Heritage."

2007-08 EMU WRESTLING

About Ypsilanti

From rolling, tree-filled suburban neighborhoods to a vibrant urban center, the Ypsilanti area accommodates every lifestyle. Affordable housing, access to state-of-the art medical care facilities and excellent schools provide a high standard of living. Low interest rates, reduced property tax and Ypsilanti's central location between Ann Arbor and Detroit have all worked together to create one of the state's strongest housing markets.

Ypsilanti's History

Ypsilanti is located where an old Indian trail crossed the Huron River and was, long before the coming of the white man, the camping and burial ground for several native American tribes. In 1809, three French explorers built a log structure on the west bank of an Indian trading post which was one of the earliest structures in the vast, sparsely populated Michigan territory, whose citizens, including soldiers in forts, numbered just 4,762.

Gabriel Godfrey, proprietor of the trading post, was followed in 1823 by Benjamin Woodruff who, along with several companions, established a small settlement on the river a mile south of the post, naming it Woodruff's Grove, the first settlement in Washtenaw County.

In 1824, Father Gabriel Richard, representative in Congress for the Michigan Territory, urged the building of a federal highway from Detroit to Chicago, to be known as the Chicago Road. The surveying crew, following the Sauk Indian trail, put the crossing of the Huron River nearly a mile north of Woodruff's Grove.

In 1825, three prominent settlers combined portions of their own land to form the original plat for a new settlement at the crossing, which was named for the Greek Patriot General Demetrius Ypsilanti. When a fire destroyed the school at Woodruff's Grove, that small settlement was abandoned in favor of Ypsilanti.

Travel from Detroit by stagecoach became possible in 1830, and by 1832 three stage lines served Ypsilanti. In 1835, the military road to Chicago was officially opened, with new towns springing up along its length. Three years later the railroad from Detroit reached Ypsilanti. The first wood frame depot was built in 1838; two decades later, a large brick masonry station was constructed.

Adjacent to the depot, a small commercial district arose east of the river known, then and now, as Depot Town. Most of the structures still standing in Depot Town today were built within three decades following mid-19th century.

A second business district developed shortly after Depot Town on the west side of the river, along the Chicago Road (later called Congress Street, now Michigan Avenue). Both business districts continued to develop and diversify, resulting in a considerable rivalry between the two which still exists to some extent today.

Over the years, Ypsilanti grew and flourished. The early development of the community was influenced and enhanced by the presence of the river and its abundant water power.

As the years progressed the river industries of the mid to late 19th century yielded to manufacturing, and mills gave way to auto-related commerce which became the major economic force.

In 1941, Ford Motor Company built a plant in Willow Run. That plant was quickly converted to wartime production when the United States entered World War II. The famous B-24 bombers rolled off the Willow Run assembly line one every 55 minutes.

The EMU Identity

Since the 1991 season, Eastern Michigan University athletic teams have gone by the nickname "Eagles."

The Eagles name was officially adopted on May 22, 1991, when the EMU Board of Regents voted to replace the existing Huron nickname and logo with the new one.

EMU originally went by the nicknames "Normalites," "Men from Ypsi" and various other titles through the years before "Hurons" was adopted in 1929.

The "Hurons" first came into being as the result of a contest sponsored by the Men's Union in 1929. On Oct. 31 of that year, a three-person committee, composed of Dr. Clyde Ford, Dr. Elmer Lyman and Professor Bert Peet, selected the name "Hurons" from the many entries in the contest.

The name was submitted by two students, Gretchen Borst and George Hanner.

Hanner was working at the Huron Hotel at the time of the contest and was no doubt as much influenced by his place of employment as by the Huron Indian tribe.

The runner-up name in that contest was Pioneers.

EMU began investigating the appropriateness of its Huron Indian logo after the Michigan Department of Civil Rights issued a report in October 1988 suggesting that all schools using such logos drop them. The report indicated that the use of Native American names, logos and mascots for athletic teams promoted racial stereotypes. At that time, four colleges, 62 high schools and 33 junior high/middle schools in Michigan used Indian logos or names.

The EMU Board of Regents voted to replace the Huron name with Eagles, taken from three recommendations from a committee charged with supplying a new nickname. The other two final names submitted were Green Hornets and Express.

Important Questions for Prospective Student-Athletes from Melody Reifel Werner, Associate Athletic Director for Compliance

WHEN DO I BECOME A PROSPECT?

You become a "prospective student-athlete" (PSA) when you start ninth-grade classes. You become a "recruited prospective student-athlete" at a particular college if any coach approaches you (or any member of your family) about enrolling and participating in athletics at that college. Activities by coaches that cause you to become a recruited prospective student-athlete are: (1) providing you with an official visit to campus; (2) placing more than one telephone call to you or any other member of your family; or (3) visiting you or any other member of your family anywhere other than the college campus.

WHEN CAN COACHES TALK TO ME AND WATCH ME PLAY?

There are many specific NCAA rules which dictate when a coach may talk to you or watch you play. These rules vary depending on the sport and the time of year. Often, calls are limited to a certain month or to certain times during the month. To get more information on what these rules are and which ones apply to you, please visit ncaa.org or contact Melody Reifel Werner at 734.487.2327.

WHAT ABOUT COACHES CONTACTING ME?

A contact is any face-to-face meeting between a university coach and you or your parents. Also, any such face-to-face meeting that is prearranged or that takes place on your campus, at an organized competition or at a practice involving you or your high school, prep school, two-year college or all-star team shall be considered a contact, regardless of the conversation. Currently in all sports other than football, college coaches may contact you off the college campus no more than three times. However, a college coach may visit your high school (with the approval of your high school principal) only once a week during a contact period.

WHAT ARE EVALUATIONS?

An evaluation is any off-campus activity used to assess your academic qualifications or athletics ability, which includes visiting your high school (during which no contact occurs) or watching you practice or compete at any site. Currently in all sports other than football and basketball, a college coach is limited to seven opportunities (contacts and evaluations combined) to recruit you and not more than three of the seven opportunities may be off-campus contacts. Once you sign a National Letter of Intent, you may be evaluated an unlimited number of times by a college coach from the college with which you have signed.

WHEN CAN A COACH SEND ME LETTERS AND EMAILS?

In sports other than men's basketball, a member institution may not provide recruiting materials to a prospect (including general correspondence related to athletics) until Sept. 1 at the beginning of the prospect's junior year in high school. In the sport of men's basketball, an institution may not provide recruiting materials to a prospect (including general correspondence related to athletics) until June 15 at the conclusion of the prospect's sophomore year in high school.

ARE THERE RULES FOR BOOSTERS?

In addition to general recruiting regulations, no alumni, boosters or representatives of a college's athletics interests can be involved in your recruitment. There may be no phone calls or letters from boosters. If an EMU booster is contacting you, please call the EMU Office of Compliance as soon as possible at 734. 487.2327.

I HAVE OTHER QUESTIONS THAT ARE NOT ANSWERED HERE.

CAN YOU HELP ME?

Sure! If you have any questions, please contact Melody Reifel Werner via e-mail at melody.reifel@emich.edu. Good luck and GO EAGLES!
